A Two-Day International Transdisciplinary
Web Conference on

THE PANDEMIC TURN: CHALLENGES, DIRECTIONS AND INNOVATIONS IN THE NEW ORDER

25 and 26 February 2021

THE CONCEPT

The Covid 19 crisis and the unprecedented awareness of microbial perils have been instrumental in making the academia, and the world in general, to think about the ‘Pandemic Turn.’ This turn, like the gender, spatial, and material turns in the past, has brought about myriads of perspectives on the old and new normal from all over the planet. It has also compelled academic disciplines and epistemologies to reconsider their pedagogies, boundaries and methodologies. They are learning to accommodate the notions of peril, cure, care, safety, remedy, solution, and alternatives.

In the wake of such tectonic changes in medical science, economy, societies, and mindsets, it would be a worthwhile exercise to document the dimensions of the ‘New Order’ in the form of an international web conference.

This transdisciplinary web conference aims to bring perspectives and research papers from renowned academicians and scholars from different centres of learning. It also aims to provide students a platform to articulate their research thinking in the forms of a paper presentation competition and an e-poster presentation competition.
